

St Edmund's
Girls' School

Wyvern
College

Questions raised by email regarding the Wyvern College & St Edmund's Girls' School Collaboration

I wonder if you could confirm whether the changes are being treated under the terms of making significant changes to an open academy?

The answer is no. The reason for this is that we are not merging or amalgamating the schools and are making no change that could be construed as significant under the government guidelines. Two single sex schools remain with their funding agreements from the Secretary of State unchanged.